DESCRIPTION:

The Porini Cheetah Camp is located close to the Olare Lemunyi watercourse, between the White Rock feature on the one hand and a marsh fed by a permanent underground spring that is a magnet for the antelopes and zebras, especially in the dry season. The White Rock is an excellent location for sun downers because of 360 degree views it offers. The Ol Kinyei conservancy, where this camp is located, is exclusive to Porini Camps and makes for an extraordinarily intimate wildlife experience, with very few other cars sharing your sightings. The conservancy is a recognized hotspot for the big cats and especially cheetahs and lions, which are seen regularly, often with cubs. It is also home to large herds of elephants, apart from the plains game for which the Maasai Mara eco-system is justly famous. Game drives can also be taken in the nearby Maasai Mara National Reserve and the adjacent Naboisho Conservancy.
